CRANSTON TELLS AUDITORS' VALUE

Millions of dollars are saved California taxpayers by state and local government auditors, State Controller Alan Cranston said here this week.

Cranston told a regional conference of County Auditors and Tax Collectors here that a prudent government will staff itself with competent auditors.

"AN AUDITOR traditionally proves himself to have been a good investment," Cranston told his audience at the Oasis Hotel. "Those in the Controller's Office have discovered a total of approximately $1 million in errors and improper claims in the past two fiscal years."

"This is money saved the State. It is the dollar total of payments disallowed by the Controller's Office."

Cranston said the Controller's Office, by constitutional authority, audits all claims against the State for legality, mathematical correctness, and to assure that there is money appropriated to pay them.

He said the auditors in his office pay far more than their own salaries with the savings effected by their sharp-eyed practice of spotting errors that range all the way from simple mistakes in arithmetic to blatant excessive claims.

"THERE IS A more subtle benefit from a rigid audit program, a benefit that is difficult to measure in terms of dollars," Cranston said. "That is the deterrent effect of a stringent audit."

"The element of temptation is

Injured Youth Still Critical At Hospital

Dennis Wayne Nightengale, 10, who was hit in a crosswalk on Indian Avenue at Amado Road Wednesday night, is reported in "poor condition" today at Desert Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said that the boy "has improved some from his condition yesterday, but is still critical."

He was hit by an automobile about 6 p.m., Wednesday, which was driven by Mrs. Enid Rauber, 25, 366 Camino Alturas, who in an attempt to avoid hitting the youth, swerved and smashed into a parked car.

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan probably will use his landslide election victory as an argument in favor of an early summit meeting with Russia, it was reported today.

Sight Conservation

Lions to Conduct White Cane Days

Cathedral City and Desert Hot Springs Lions Club members are conducting their first annual White Cane Days today and tomorrow — raising funds for sight conservation work by selling miniature white canes in their communities.

Cathedral City Lions will work four hour shifts in both Cathedral City and Rancho Mirage, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Funds raised are used specifically for eye conservation, education, examination and purchase of removed. When a claimant knows that his claim is to be subjected to close independent scrutiny, he is more careful to see that it is in order."

Hosts for the two-day convention were Donna Bower, county tax collector; W. Allen Land, county auditor-controller, and W. M. Williams, county director of data processing.

Saund, Cranston To Share Gavel In Demo Rally

Congressman D. S. Saund will deliver his first major address in a year here tonight when he takes the speaker's rostrum at a "Dollars for Democrats" dinner at the Chi Chi.

Saund, who recently returned from a trip to Iron Curtain nations, will address an expected 500 Democrats and Republicans at the Chi Chi Starlite Room following the 7:30 p.m. dinner.

State Controller Alan Cranston is also scheduled to deliver an address in a program sponsored by the Palm Springs Democratic Club.

Tickets for the dinner will be available at the Chi Chi door.

Postal Worker Haines Succumbs In Hospital Here

Jeremiah Bentley Haines, 49, for almost seven years an employee of the Palm Springs Post Office, died last night at Desert Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage.

A native of Pennsylvania, he has been a resident of Palm Springs for seven years, and of California for 27 years.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Edna Haines, and a sister, Mrs. Ruth Bell, both of Norman, Okla., and two brothers, Paul L. Haines of New Jersey, and Louis E. Haines of Pennsylvania.

Funeral services will be private from Wiefels and Son Chapel, with the Rev. James Blackstone, pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church officiating. Cremation will follow in Pennsylvania.

Wiefels and Son Mortuary will be in charge of arrangements.

School Site Acquisition Moves Ahead

Appraiser Named By School Board Thursday Night

Armed with letters of endorsement by both county and city planning directors, the Palm Springs Board of Education last night took its first major steps towards acquisition of a new elementary school site.

The board unanimously agreed to proceed with acquisition of a 10-acre site at the center of the California Dream Home subdivision and appointed Herb Foster, of Palm Springs, as its appraiser.

SCHOOLS Supt. Dwight Twist said that landowner Jack Silverman has negotiated for sale of property chosen as the site for a new school. Board members hope to open the school next fall.

The site, which has already won approval of the County Planning Commission, last night secured the endorsement of Palm Springs Planning Director Hy Ranes.

Ranes, in a letter to the board, said the site was "an ideal location" for a new school, from the standpoint of convenience and plans for future city development.

HE NOTED THAT the proposed school will be within easy walking distance of hundreds of students living within the sprawling subdivision and that it dovetails with plans for future city expansion.

A report from the California Aeronautics Commission last month raised a question of possible noise and safety hazards because of the site's relationship to Palm Springs Airport.

BUT RANES and school officials agreed that "there will obviously be some noise" and Ranes offered the assurance that there is no safety hazard for the school under Federal Aeronautics Authority regulations.

Ranes said the school site is six-tenths of a mile from the airport at its nearest point, but he said, approach patterns of large aircraft scheduled to use the airport runways in the near future will be far to the east of the site.

The school site is not in line with the airport's northwest-southeast runway, it was pointed out.

BOARD MEMBERS stipulated that they will be bound by the appraisal and asked Silverman to do the same.

KHRUSHCHEV BANS ALL TRAFFIC JAMS AFTER U.S. VISIT

NEW YORK (UPI) — American traffic jams seem to have made a profound impression on Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. He says he won't let it happen in Russia.

"Why should one rack one's brain over where to put the car? Why be bothered with it?" Moscow Radio quoted him as saying in a speech this week at Vladivostok.

Khrushchev said Russia plans "taxi pools" so people can obtain cars when needed. He also said Russia did not plan to build vast numbers of cars.

Home Owners Unit Endorses Two Bond Votes

Directors of the Palm Springs Home Owners Association last night endorsed both the $4,100,000 Palm Springs school bond issue and the $3,500,000 Coachella Valley Junior College District bond issue.

Both issues are scheduled for election next Tuesday.

Association President B. F. Shearer said a telephone poll of association directors was conducted last night and he reported that a majority of the board of directors voted in favor of the school and junior college bonds.

The association announcement coincided with reports of a study of locker and shower facilities at Palm Springs High School and Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School.

School officials pointed out that these two areas typify the vastly overcrowded facilities of schools hit by the largest enrollments in school district facilities.

Schools Supt. Dwight Twist singled out the junior high school as an example, noting that locker and shower facilities here were designed for a total of 500 boys and girls.

Current enrollment is almost 600 and school expansion plans stipulate that these facilities will be doubled immediately following passage of the school bond issue.

WEATHER

Desert area forecast: Variable high cloudiness but mostly sunny today and Saturday. Little temperature change. Highs today 75-85 upper valleys, 85-95 lower valleys. High yesterday was 83, low 56.

THIS TRAFFIC JAM in Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School's locker and shower room clearly illustrates the shortage of adequate space and overcrowded conditions of school facilities. Originally designed to handle far less youngsters than the almost 600 currently enrolled, the locker and shower facilities for both boys and girls are scheduled to be expanded to twice their normal size if next Tuesday's $4,100,000 bond election is approved by school district voters. Professor, 9 Coeds Die in Burning Crash

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI) — Nine coeds and a professor burned to death early today when a tank truck smashed into the rear of a bus bringing Trenton State College girls home from a theater party.

Fumes exploded and the chartered bus was blanketed in flames. Police said at least nine of the 41 coeds in the bus were killed along with Prof. Ernest Sixta. Five other girls were hospitalized, one in critical condition. Police said the Layton Co. bus had stopped for a red light when the tanker crashed into it.

COLLEGE TO HAVE TAX RATE OF 35'

(This is the second in a three-part series dealing with the soon-to-be-built College of the Desert here. Yesterday's article gave background on the move to establish this junior college here. Today's will take up its financing and the problem in site selection.)

By DICK ROWDEN
The Coachella Valley Junior College Board hopes to erect the new College of the Desert on the Amos Odell and Pauline G. Findisen properties which adjoin each other in the northwest section of Palm Desert.

Governor Urged To Speed Inquiry

PALM DESERT — The Coachella Valley Junior College board last night authorized a letter to Gov. Edmund G. Brown assuring him that the board would welcome an investigation of the college site controversy.

The letter, drawn up at last night's board meeting, called attention to comments made by Governor Brown to the press early this week that he personally intended to investigate the issue.

The board recently bought the land which comprises 160 acres and is bounded on the south by Avenue 44, on the west by Monterey and on the east by what would be an extension of San Pablo.

A TOTAL of 120 acres was purchased from Odell for $450,000 and Mrs. Findisen was paid $158,000 for her 40 acres.

This total of $608,000 is coming from the current district tax of 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Because it would take several years to raise enough money through the 35-cent levy to build the college, the board will ask the taxpayers in this Tuesday's election to approve a $3 million bond issue so the money can be obtained immediately and work can begin on the college as soon as possible.

THE BOARD HAS promised that even with the bond issue, the tax rate will not go above 35 cents. A portion of the 35 cents will go toward operating costs and the rest toward retiring the bonds.

Board members figure that the bond tax, to be levied by the county supervisors, will total roughly 10 cents — meaning that the remaining 25 cents will be held for operating costs.

But in case the bond tax is more than 10 cents, the board will adjust the split and reduce the amount designed for operating costs so that the total tax will stay at 35 cents.

AS THE BONDS are slowly retired in future years the total tax will drop. There is some question about building the college on the site. See COLLEGE, Page 2

Allen's Home Under Guard

INDIO — Souvenir-hunters yesterday forced the sheriff's office here to assign a patrol to the La Quinta home of George E. Allen, where President Eisenhower recently vacationed for a week.

The patrol request was made by a friend of Allen's, M. W. Kirsh, who said souvenir hunters had been prowling the area, especially at night.

White House Session Nets No Comment

Longshoremen Go Back to Work on Ike's Injunction

United Press International

The White House remained silent today on the possibility of President Eisenhower invoking the Taft-Hartley Act to send striking steel workers back to their jobs.

The President met this morning with his top Cabinet advisers on the deadlocked negotiations in the 87-day-old strike, and heard reports from Secretary of Labor James Mitchell on the dim prospects for settlement of the strike.

OTHER CABINET members participating were Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, Attorney General William P. Rogers and Commerce Secretary Fredrick Mueller.

The conference came as longshoremen reported to work today from Maine to Texas, complying with a federal court order issued Thursday night under provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

First order of business was the unloading of 30 million dollars worth of perishable cargo, some of which was reported just short of the spoiling point.

WHITE HOUSE News Secretary James C. Hagerty also attended the meeting this morning, and afterwards issued a "no comment" statement when asked if a decision was reached.

Hagerty left open the possibility of government action later today. Government economists reported today that the impact of the steel strike is continuing to mount. About 200,000 workers not on strike have been laid off their jobs as a result of the steel dispute. Together with the steel workers, they have lost about 790 million dollars in wages since the walkout began July 15.

As a sidelight, the Labor Department reported Thursday that more working time was lost from strikes in August than in any month since June, 1952.

Lanza Recording Forbidden at His Own Funeral

ROME (UPI) — Church authorities today forbade the playing of a recording of Mario Lanza's tenor voice at his own funeral Saturday.

A recording of Schubert's "Ave Maria" by Lanza was to have been played during the Roman Catholic ceremonies for the Philadelphia-born singer who died of a heart attack in a Rome clinic Wednesday.

The funeral will take place at the Church of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, but without the Lanza recording.

INFANT RETURNED HERE FOR BURIAL, DIED IN JAPAN

Funeral services will be conducted here Saturday for Phyllis Loraine Coady, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Coady, who died at birth in Ashiya, Japan, Sept. 27 and was returned here for burial.

Her father is stationed in Japan with the Air Force. She also leaves her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Coady, of Palm Springs.

Graveside services will be conducted at 1 p.m. Saturday, at Desert Memorial Park, by Dr. James H. Blackstone Jr., of Palm Springs Community Church. Wiefels and Son Mortuary is in charge of funeral arrangements.

TOM SWANNER FINDS PEOPLE ARE LIKE POKER PLAYERS--MOST HONEST

By JOAN WILCOXON

Tom Swanner is a philosopher, a poker player, a student of the humanities, an avid reader, a dog lover and a happily married man.

For living he sells cigarettes, cigars and chewing gum, greeting cards, newspapers and the latest magazines and paper backs. He probably makes the lowest salary in Palm Springs but he wouldn't trade his job for any other.

IT GIVES HIM chance to see people all day long and talk with all kinds, to sharpen his perception which is at needle point now and to discuss the merits of poker.

"People are like poker players, honey," he draws in his soft Kentucky. "Most of 'em deals off the top, but there's always the few who try to sneak it from the bottom of the pile. How they can do it beats me. You can see how miserable they are just having to live with themselves."

"LIKE THE WOMAN in mink

TOM SWANNER, who operates the booth in the Palm Springs Post Office, above watches sightlessly, while a customer gestures the size of an envelope needed to mail pictures. He filled the order. Swanner this week endorsed the Sight Conservation Program of the Cathedral City and Desert Hot Springs Lions Club, and urged local residents to support their project by buying miniature white canes today and tomorrow.

who stood here for an hour and read the whole newspaper before she'd pay a dime and buy it. But if I'd offered her my chair she'd a took it without a word!

"But then there's the other kind like the lady who ordered a San Francisco Chronicle and told me to keep one a day for her."

"I did but when she didn't show up for thirty days I thought she'd forgot all about it and sent them back. Six months later she wired me from Detroit and said she was sorry. Two months later she dropped by and bought a fifteen cent magazine and told me to keep the change. It was a ten dollar bill!"

"Now the way I see it, those off the top dealers are worth keeping in business even if I never get rich. You gotta admit," he chuckled, "everyone can't have as a business address the United States Post Office!"

Tomorrow: The unusual philosophy of Tom Swanner and what it has meant to villagers.

Labor Reform Meeting Set

SAN FRANCISCO — A statewide educational conference on labor legislation has been set for Nov. 16-18, at the Mar Monte Hotel in Santa Barbara, it was announced by C. J. Haggerty, secretary-treasurer of the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO.

Under joint sponsorship of the Federation and the University of California, the four-day session will focus on providing both a working knowledge of the new so-called labor reform law passed by Congress and the necessary labor legislation background for understanding its significance to the trade union movement.

ADDRESS CHANGES NEEDED BY COUNTY TAX COLLECTORS

PALM DESERT — Residents here have been asked to notify the Riverside County Tax Collector's office of changes in mailing addresses made with the introduction in the near future of home delivery service for the community.

W. H. Barnett, deputy assessor, explained the notification will be necessary so residents will avoid the possibility of delinquent taxes.

Barnhart said change of address cards are available at the tax collector's office in the courthouse in Riverside or at the assessor's office in Indio and Palm Springs. It is expected that cards will also be available at the Palm Desert Post Office.

Mrs. Sergeant Here and Gone

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN
Mrs. Edgar (Hazel) Sergeant was in the desert for a few days. She has departed for Gull Lake, Mich., and will be away for a month. She deviated from her usual custom of summering in Michigan and instead visited the Northwest with a few weeks on a dude ranch in Baja, Calif. Her brother and family, Joe, Jessie and Karen Allabaugh were here with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vernier are at home again after a prolonged freighter cruise to Europe. They visited many places of interest that were not on their original itinerary, with a visit with relatives in the east.

Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Seals dashed off to Las Vegas last week and report they had a wonderful time. Helen and Bill spent the summer here and were glad to "get away" if only for a limited time.

The Sun Lodge Colony is beginning to look and feel as though the winter season is really here. Mr. and Mrs. Don Gordon are back after an extended summer trip, ending with a month in La Jolla before returning. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Blenkhorn are also here for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Olds have opened their Lodge for the remainder of the month and the Gifford Salmons will be back any day. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Oshier have purchased a new and larger Sun Lodge and they will spend the entire winter here, something new and different for them.

Mrs. Walter Markley (Christine) has opened the doors of her gift shop in the Palm Desert Shopping Center.

John Kennedy has returned from a visit with his mother in Wichita, Kans. For the time being, he will be in the Airline Travel Bureau office.

Last Friday night, the opening of Shadow Mountain Club proved to be a real "Home-Coming" affair. Many of the members were back from summer vacations and glad to be home again. Here and there one saw the Murray Grays, Ed Monroes, Kay Olessens, James O'Rielles, Ted Cranes, Art Letherbys, Tom Orrs, Edith Eddy Ward and party, Herb Shaws, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Jensen, Arthur Waggeners, Forrest Bowers, the Walter Allens who were entertaining a large group for cocktails and dinner, Edna Value, Fran Hodgeman, the Douglas Jones, Mrs. J. B. Shutz, Belle Knightley, Win Andrews, Ralph and Esther Phillips, Floyd Mitchell, Bobbie Reichert and guests, Hazel Sergeant and party, L. W. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE vice president Bill Smith welcomes Ann Seeling, who is joining the staff of McFadden and Eddy Associates as staff photographer for the Palm Springs Chamber.

CHAMBER ADDS PHOTOGRAPHER

Addition of Ann Seeling to the staff of McFadden & Eddy, public relations firm representing the City of Palm Springs, was announced today by Chamber of Commerce Manager Jimmy Cooper.

Prior to her appointment as staff photographer, Miss Seeling was a free-lance writer and photographer for This Week in Santa Barbara and other publications. Her earlier connections in Santa Barbara included the Direct Relief Foundation, for which she worked as publicist and photographer.

She previously worked in Palm Springs as editorial assistant on The Villager magazine, and as photographer at El Mirador Hotel.

She was co-author of the booklet "Nevada Stories in Pictures," with her husband, Hamilton A. Higbie. Before coming to the West Coast, she was editorial assistant at The New York Times, and later publicity director for the Massachusetts Council of the National War Fund, with headquarters in Boston.

The addition of Miss Seeling will permit the Chamber of Commerce Publicity Department to greatly expand its photographic coverage of the Village, Cooper said.

New 'Bible' Find to Be Published

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

In 1945, a group of Egyptian peasants, poking around the ruins of a hillside tomb, discovered 13 earthen jars containing leather-bound volumes of papyrus.

They didn't think much of their find. They used one of the documents to light a fire, and sold the rest very cheaply to a dealer in antiquities.

EVENTUALLY THE papyrus volumes came to the attention of biblical scholars—and touched off the greatest wave of excitement since the Dead Sea Scrolls.

One of the ancient books, preserved for more than 16 centuries in the dry Egyptian sands, proved to be a collection of 114 "Sayings of Jesus" purportedly recorded by the Apostle Thomas.

THE FULL TEXT of this so-called "Gospel according to Thomas," hitherto available only to a handful of researchers, will be published in English by Harper & Brothers at the end of this month.

It is fascinating reading, particularly for anyone who is reasonably familiar with the Bible. Many of the "sayings" attributed to Jesus duplicate passages that are found in the four canonical gospels of the New Testament—Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. Others, however, are new.

THE AUTHENTICITY of the latter will be the subject of long and earnest debate among scholars. Some of them sound as if they might truly have come from the lips of Jesus. For example: "Jesus said: If those who lead you say to you: 'See, the kingdom is in Heaven,' then the birds of the heaven will precede you. If they say to you: 'It is in the sea,' then the fish will precede you. But the kingdom is within you add it is without you."

Despite the presence of these pearls, the "Gospel according to Thomas" cannot properly be called "the fifth gospel." Scholars are unanimous and emphatic on that point.

JOE ROSENQUIST GIVEN $50 AWARD BY POST OFFICE

The Post Office Department announced today that Joe L. Rosenquist has been awarded $50 "for sustained above average performance of assigned duties."

The award was made on a recommendation of his immediate supervisor, Walt Koehnemann, through Palm Springs Postmaster Merritt Williams.

Rosenquist was one of 25 post office employees who received awards in the California-Hawaii Regional Operations director.

JayCees Back School, College Bond Elections

Junior Chamber of Commerce members endorsed the forthcoming Palm Springs school bond election this week and immediately launched a "get out the vote" campaign.

Palm Springs JayCees also voiced their approval of the $3,500,000 Coachella Valley Junior bond issue, scheduled for balloting simultaneously with the Palm Springs issue next Tuesday.

The local school system is seeking approval of $4,100,000 worth of bonds to finance the final stages of a five-year school expansion program.

The JayCees adopted resolutions supporting both bond issues. Two members, John West and Bud Brewer, were appointed to head a committee assigned to "get out the vote." They plan to use a sound truck and various promotional materials to boost their campaign.

The Allen Irvings have taken permanent residence in Apartment No. 61. They are formerly of Encino.

Betty Park has been called to Los Angeles by the illness of her mother who is in the hospital there.

Norm Phillips spent Monday and Tuesday of this week at his apartment. He is a director of Desert Braemar Inc.

Expected soon are Dr. and Mrs. Herman Biermer of San Mateo, the Heine Schmidts of Redondo Beach and the Warren Reileys of San Jose.

Mrs. Fritz Binnion spent the past few days in her apartment here. Her home is in Lakeview, Ore.

Other weekenders include the Leonard Floans of Portland, Ore., and the Frank Walters of Los Angeles. Mr. Walter is a golfer and member of Western Hills Golf Club.

The Hollis Browns are here. Jack and Fern Graves, son and daughter-in-law of the Clarence Graves, are occupying the elder Graves apartment for the week. Jack is in the engineering department of Channel 9 TV.

The large triangular beds of All American Roses and petunias are already breaking into bloom — an added touch of color.

COLLEGE

The location is opposed by H. L. Gogerty, owner and operator of Desert Airpark near the site.

Gogerty claims the college would be too close to the airpark and would be endangered by planes landing and taking off from the airpark.

HE HAS INITIATED action in Superior Court to restrain the board from building the college there. If his action is successful, the board will have to sell the Odell site and select another one. The board has countered that the planes would not be a menace because the flight pattern there is such that the planes, under FAC regulation, should not pass over the site.

In connection with this controversy over the site, Dr. Roy C. McCall, college president says:

"IT IS THE least expensive of any of the four sites approved by the State Bureau of State Planning as meeting minimum requirements for a junior college site. It also comes the nearest (of any of the sites) to being half way between Palm Springs and Indio."

But meanwhile the team of architects selected this year are working on drawings for the buildings. They are John Porter Clark, coordinating architect; John Carl Warnecke, master plan and design architect; and Williams & Williams, Wexler & Harrison and Frey & Chambers, all executive architects.

(The third and final article tomorrow in this three-part series will describe the college, according to the master plan, explain why it is needed and touch on the social and economic aspects of the project.)

GROUP TO STUDY PURCHASE OF HALL

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — An Improvement Association special committee today studied a DHS Park and Recreation Board offer to purchase the Association's hall at Eighth and Cactus Streets here. The committee was appointed by Association President Leslie Morgan to meet with board officials following an explosive Town Hall meeting last Saturday.

Legion to Host Swimming Party

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — American Legion Post 763 will host a swim party for officials of the Legion's 21st District and their wives at Coffee's Pool Saturday night.

The swim party will follow the post's regular monthly meeting, scheduled for 7 p.m. at Town Hall, Eighth and Cactus Streets.

Refreshments will be served by the post Women's Auxiliary.

The park board's offer to buy the hall and set it up as a "community building" drew a heated reply from former Association President James Compton who declared he will "fight every inch of the way" to halt the sale.

County Park Supt. Edward Walker said the DHS park board owns the 5 1/2 acres of land surrounding the hall and wants the structure as a community all-purpose building. He indicated that condemnation proceedings may follow failure of association officers and park board members to agree on a price.

If Fire Strikes....?

National Fire Prevention Week is ending... but the danger of fire never ends.

One wonders how many persons were moved by the appeals and warnings of those who combat fire perils to make a thorough inspection of their home or business premises and take definite precautions to prevent and combat the outbreak of a blaze.

As a nation we are losing many billions of dollars of our most valuable possessions and property, and thousands of lives annually to the demon fire. Most of this tremendous toll in flaming destruction is preventable. The great majority of these fires could have been extinguished in their incipency if people would only heed the widely broadcast warnings and take proper precautions to be prepared to act quickly and effectively the very instant a fire is discovered.

Most people panic particularly when their own home catches fire, become hysterical and so terrified with fright that they are almost unable to think or act reasonably in combatting the flames or giving quick alarm.

This is because almost everyone lives in constant fear of an outbreak of fire, but rare indeed is the individual who has wisely and thoroughly prepared to meet such an emergency by having everything necessary readily at hand from a fire extinguisher to the telephone number of the nearest fire department. The latter person is mentally conditioned and able to act quickly, calmly and effectively in time of need, and meanwhile can feel much more secure in the knowledge of being fully ready to fight fire if it should strike.

National Fire Prevention Week is an important reminder to the public of the wisdom of doing everything possible to prevent fires. Also, to be prepared to combat them as quickly and effectively as possible.

If you are one who has not heeded this annual appeal for safety against the perils of fire, there is no better time than this very day to do so.

Next year, or even tomorrow, could be too late!

This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

Time was when
 Perfumed blossoms
 Scented the evening scene
 But now it's stuff
 They put on grass
 To make it grow so green.

You'll pardon me for bringing up this subject for the third time in a month but I have just talked to a Villager who, earlier this week, put in his lawn.

HE SAID that he wasn't feeling "so pretty good."

Had completed his October chore and the stuff smelled somewhat powerful.

He either had to close his windows and suffer from stuffiness or leave them open and feel faint.

"Guess I must have an allergy," he said.

All I can say is, it serves him right.

AT A LOCAL HOTEL several alterations are being made.

As is customary on such occasions, there is a sign on the window "business as usual during alterations."

Between the "usual" and the "alterations" a word has been inserted in parenthesis, "bad."

LEE ERICKSON, who placidly makes up the classified pages of The Desert Sun, was gazing out of the Indian Avenue door Wednesday morning at the progress of work at The Desert Spa across the street.

"Man! They must have a deadline and are scrambling to get it done."

"Look at that! Twenty five men on the roof at the same time and all going like crazy!"

THE OTHER DAY, Monday I think it was, I made some mention of the growth of The Desert Sun, from a four-page weekly back in 1927, to a multiple-page daily, six times a week, in 1959.

That brought a comment from a Villager whose name, I am sorry to say, I cannot decipher. (The handwriting is so bad, he must be a newspaper man.)

THERE'S ONE THING you forgot to mention," he wrote.

"When The Sun established its first office in Palm Springs, it was in one room. There was a partition down the middle of it to separate the news department from the ad men. (One each.)

"So they wouldn't fight."

"Now look at it! You've expanded four times in the present structure, using two buildings and many times the room you started in in The Center 12 years ago."

"From two men to almost 100. The Sun office would still be a good place for a hot dog concession — the traffic is so heavy."

NOW WE'VE GOT movies, television, radio and all sorts of things we take as a matter of course.

But it was only 65 years ago, October 9, 1894, that the first magic lantern feature was presented. It was called "Miss Jerry" and starred Blanche Bayless and William Courtney. I wasn't there.

Still With the Tour

STAN DELAPLANE: Swing and Sway

From the commercial toil and troubled arts of Hollywood, we flew north to Monterey, Calif., and the famous Jazz Festival.

The Jazz Festival comes around each October — it is the best time of the year on the Peninsula. The sea and sky in hi-fi blue and the pine trees a scale of rising notes on the hillsides over Monterey Bay.

EVERYBODY is blowing music out of horns and great bursts of rhythm rose in the brisk autumn air. Jazz, I must report, has changed a great deal.

What it has changed for is the better. When I was doing a youthful bit for music — I played a tenor saxophone and specialized in a cool thing we called "single-string hot licks."

WHEN I WAS gathering musical rosebuds while ye may, we played from musical arrangements. We did not arrange them, you understand. We bought them from a music house.

They had Paris for first saxophone, second saxophone, third saxophone. Clarinets, banjos, piano, drums and a lot of other instruments. It made us feel pretty professional. Because we did not have all these instruments.

WE HAD A piano, one saxophone, one set of drums — and me.

However, if we HAD had all those instruments, we would have had music for them. And it showed we were a big-time organization.

A good many of the Jazz Festival musicians can play without music. In fact, improvising music is the mark of a good group — handing off the lead to each other like a football.

HEAVENLY DAYS, we played WITH music. But it was just about the same thing. Because none of us ever finished together. Or even stuck together through the whole piece.

We started together. But after that it was every man for himself. We were too busy trying to read the music to be bothered with the next man. Let him blow his own horn.

We simply played that piece until we were through. Then we stopped. If somebody was later than we were, that was too bad for him.

JAZZ (AND MUSIC generally) therefore has progressed in my musical hometown. And a good thing too. Because we barely held our own when I was whacking the strings on "Yessir, That's My Baby!"

I can tell you when we played "When My Sugar Walked Down the Street," our sugar walked like a troop of cavalry headed for the barn.

The Jazz Festival musicians, however, all played together. And they all finished together. I do not see how they do it.

THE BEST THING about the Monterey Jazz Festival is the setting. It is held at the Fairgrounds — on the flat where the Monterey jack pines meet the California live oaks.

The town was full of jazz fans. They could pop off the names of every player. Recall evenings when they were at their best and evenings when they fell off.

They had all the latest records and a roomful of wooders and tweeters and hi-fi equipment to bring out the best in everybody.

WE HAD NO such equipment when I was swingin' down the lane. And more's the pity, I say. No recordings exist of that music.

I doubt if you can pick up a combo like that these days. Everybody headed like mad for the musical finish line. And you're banjo-pickin' correspondent galloping in a lap behind on a single string.

MIKE CONNOLLY: Interview With Mae

HOLLYWOOD — I arrived too late at Prentice-Hall's "literary tea" in the Beverly Hilton Hotel's Versailles Suite honoring the publishing house's distinguished new lady author, Mae West, and her book, "Goodness Had Nothing to Do with It."

It was 8:05 p.m., the party had been from 5-to-8, the guest-of-honor had departed. Knowing of Mae's predilection for always looking her best and figuring she must have reserved rooms at Mr. Hilton's inn to prepare for her press-conference-plus-cocktails-collation, I picked up the house phone and asked for her. "C'mon up," she said. Honest.

MAE WELCOMED me to her suite like Helen of Troy admitting Paris to her boudoir. Except that Mae was bodyguarded in HER boudoir by Chuck Novak, one of the musclemen from her nightclub act, and Thad Prescott, her hair stylist. "I always have somebody with me during interviews," she explained, "ever since that Mickey Hargitay mess. He and that Jayne Mansfield were getting all the good publicity. I was getting roughed up. No more of that for Mae."

She was tired but exhilarated too. Most actresses are after a good performance. She started remembering all the things she had wanted to say at the press confab but couldn't because too many reporters kept asking her questions about things she didn't want to talk about.

I CONFESSED my guilt when she asked, "Are you the columnist who printed that story about Herman Hovver writing a screenplay for me in which I would play Tuesday Weld's mother? Well, I just had my lawyer serve a cease-and-desist notice on him and I sent you a copy too. I'm not about to play anybody's mother."

What Mae would prefer playing is herself in the movie version of her new autobiography. Producers Jim Geller and Murray Feil have already pitched her for it. She says "Goodness" as a three-act screenplay with a child actress in the first act, a "Marilyn Monroe-type" midway and herself at the grand finale.

MAE WILL BE 66 years old next Aug. 17. She looks anywhere from 45 to 50 and, under certain lights, even younger. Her figure is great. I didn't ask her how she does it. The others had asked her that. I asked what she'll be doing professionally after her Person-to-Person TV show next Friday (Oct. 16), in which the producers are hoping they'll be able to show her bedroom in her home (the same one on the cover of her book) with its ceiling mirrors. "I like TV," she said. "I got a lot of good reaction to the Academy Awards show I did with Rock Hudson. I also have three writing projects going, or perhaps I should call them re-writing projects."

"ONE IS a novelization of my 1926 play, 'The Drag.' They requested me not to bring it to Broadway after the tryout tour. It was 20 years ahead of its time. But now that we've had 'Compulsion' and 'Tea and Sympathy' I think it's high time for 'The Drag.'"

"I'm also adapting two other stage plays of mine, 'Catherine

Was Great' and 'Come On Up,' as screenplays."

She showed me a gilt-edged, hand-tooled presentation copy of her autobiography, a gift from the publishers. "Pretty nice to have it all in a beautiful edition like this," she sighed. "All my achievements and transgressions — that's a big word for 'sins.'"

I REMINDED the star that all the pre-publication publicity about the book had referred to it as "The Empress of Sex." She pouted. "The publishers made me change it to 'Goodness Had Nothing to Do with It,' which is a line of dialogue from an old movie of mine, when another actress said, 'Goodness, what beautiful diamonds,' and I said, 'Goodness had' —

"Well, anyway, I sneaked it in as the subtitle." She pointed to the dust-jacket of the book I had brought along for her to autograph. There it was: "Mae West, Empress of Sex."

HER PUBLISHERS and their wives were coming down from their own suite to take Mae and her musclemen and hair stylist to dinner in the hotel's L'Escoffier Room.

They had invited me too but I was on my way to an autographing party of my own at the newly remodeled Hollywood Brown Derby, where they were hanging some new caricatures of Hollywood columnists, including my own. I went into a long song-and-dance about the time I had spent trying to think of something clever to write on my cartoon.

MAE HANDED me her book, all autographed. I thanked her, wished her luck with the book and the film version, her TV show, her new novel and her two screenplays. She thanked me, told me to be more careful about those Herman Hovver-Tuesday Weld "plants," gave me her phone number and told me to check with her whenever I get a news tip about any more roles some unauthorized persons might have in mind for her. Her bodyguards bowed me out.

I opened the book in the corridor outside of Mae's suite. She had written: "To Mike Connolly (cq) — Sincerely, Mae West."

PROPER TRAFFIC LANE IMPORTANT

Choosing the proper traffic lane while driving on multilane highways, including freeways, is a skill that many motorists have not yet mastered, according to Bradford M. Crittenden, commissioner of the California Highway Patrol.

"The key to using the correct lane," Crittenden said, "is to avoid impeding the normal flow of traffic. On a divided road with two traffic lanes on each side, you should drive in the right-hand lane except when overtaking and passing another car or when preparing to make a left turn. By keeping to the right, you will not be guilty of holding up a long line of cars in the passing lane."

Although the law is the same on freeways having more than two lanes of traffic in each direction, thoughtful motorists expedite traffic and minimize conflicts by driving as much as possible in a single lane where the other vehicles are traveling at approximately the same speed, the Patrol official said.

"If you are being passed on the right you are probably driving in the wrong lane," Crittenden emphasized, "and you should move to the lane on your right. This will allow the faster cars to pass you safely at the left and keep traffic moving smoothly."

WHITE SOX FAN CAUGHT STEALING, GOES TO 'BULLPEN'

So, Thursday, just before the sixth game of the World Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers, she could restrain herself no longer.

Antoinette had to watch the game on television — if the police station had one.

Student Ambassadors this week launched their first fund raising campaign in an effort to raise funds to send a representative group to Washington, D. C., next summer to learn first hand how the government is run.

From now until Oct. 18 the group will go around to desert area homes and on weekends on Palm Canyon Drive to solicit "pennies."

In 1958 four students and advisor Moya Henderson made the trip. Student Ambassadors going there were Joe Henderson, Jr., Donivee Ellison, Frank Hilton and Hazel Micelli.

BENSON FILLING DULLES BOOTS AS GLOBE-TROTTER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson is rapidly filling the shoes of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as the Eisenhower administration's greatest traveler.

Benson returns Friday from a 10,000-mile tour of Europe with his wife and two of his daughters.

With the end of his current trip, Benson will have rolled up 346,939 miles of official government travel in the United States and overseas since 1953.

BAD TRAFFIC YEAR FORECAST

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A national traffic safety leader said yesterday he was alarmed that this year the nation may have its worst record of traffic deaths in 18 years.

"This year, we are on our way to an all-time high in traffic deaths," said William Randolph Hearst Jr.

He said injuries and economic losses will be up in proportion. "What is more, the mileage death rate — the number of deaths relative to miles of travel — seems to be edging up slightly. This is the first time this will have happened since 1941."

SIXTY'S SIZZLERS

16 SUPERLATIVE NEW CHEVROLETS FOR 1960!

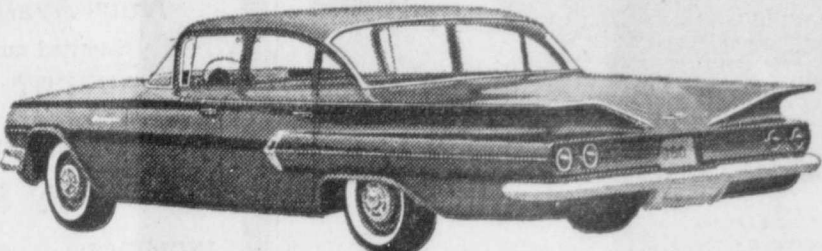

Nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came!

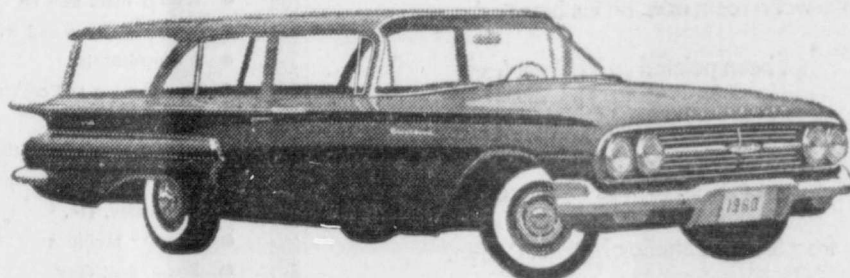

4 IMPALAS—Nowhere else in the low-price field will you find luxury like this. These fresh, fashionable Impalas—most elegant of all the superlative '60 Chevrolets—are all the car you ever yearned for. Each embodies distinctive treatment inside and out, with triple-unit rear lights, fingertip door releases and safety-reflector armrests. Besides the Impala sport sedan above, there are a convertible, sport coupe and 4-door sedan.

4 BEL AIRS—Sumptuous as these Bel Airs are to behold, they're priced just above Chevy's thriftiest models. And, like all Chevis, they give you a choice of two of the thriftiest engines going as standard equipment—the famed Hi-Thrift 6 and a new Economy Turbo-Fire V8 that gets up to 10% more miles out of a gallon of regular while giving you more "git" at normal speeds. Besides the 4-door Bel Air sedan above, there are a 2-door sedan, sport sedan and sport coupe.

3 BISCAYNES—These (though you'd never know to look at them) are the lowest priced of the superlative '60 Chevrolets. They bring you the same basic beauty and relaxing roominess as the other models. And, like all Chevis, they ride on cradle-soft Full Coil suspension, isolated from road shock and noise by thicker, newly designed body mounts. Along with the 4-door Biscayne sedan above, you have your choice of a 2-door and a utility sedan.

5 STATION WAGONS—These Chevy wagons are stunningly styled to carry you away. And they've got the kind of cargo space (over 10 ft. from the back of the front seat to the tip of the tailgate) to carry away most anything you want to take with you. Besides that thrifty 2-door Brookwood above, you have your choice of a 4-door Brookwood, 4-door Parkwood, 2-passenger Kingswood and the nifty Nomad.

Karen Wahlberg Celebrates Birthday at Hobo Party

A group of girls dressed as hobos invaded the Paseo de Anza home of the J. R. Wahlbergs to help their young daughter, Karen, celebrate her seventh birthday. In accord with the theme, the girls spread newspaper tablecloths on the playroom floor to enjoy hot dogs, potato chips and chocolate milk, served hobo style, and topped off with a chocolate fudge ice cream cake decorated in yellow.

Favors of nut cups done in small bandanas each holding a jeweled ring were given to the little guests, along with boxes of candy cigarettes.

In a contest for the best hobo costume, Linda Hayes was chosen as the winner.

Pin-the-lantern-on-the-caboos won prizes for three marksmen, Lydia Murray, Joan Chia and Sherry Rae; with Linda Sue Adler winning at penny pitching.

Also joining in the fun were: Barbara Steinberg, Carol Anderson, Sherry Lynne Crowell and the birthday girl's sister, Heidi Wahlberg.

Washington and World Doings Recorded in Their Diaries

By HELEN THOMAS

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At least two women in the Eisenhower administration are keeping a record of the part they're playing in history. It all goes down in their daily diaries.

Pat Nixon jots down exciting notes in her journal, especially when she's globe-trotting with the vice president. Nina Krushchev, wife of the Soviet premier, told her she ought to write a book.

Mrs. Wiley T. Buchanan tells all to her diary about her official life as the wife of the State Department's chief of protocol.

No Publishing Desires

But both women disclaim any desire to publish their diaries. Mrs. Nixon says she is writing her personal memoirs for her daughters, Tricia and Julia.

As the wife of a diplomatic top-kick, blonde blue-eyed Ruth Buchanan is privy to the intimate side of state visits. Some of it makes good reading, she concedes. But not for public print.

"If anyone writes a book," insists Mrs. Buchanan, "it'll be Wiley."

When the Buchanans are escorting the President's high-ranking guests around the country, she manages to do her personal scribbling in planes, trains and crowded waiting rooms.

Describes the Visit

She says the State Department tries to do a smooth job of red carpet planning for every chief of state—but it doesn't always work that way.

"Everything went according to schedule . . . minute by minute when Queen Elizabeth was here," confides Mrs. Buchanan.

But her jotted impressions of the Khrushchev cross-country tour run to such descriptions as "wild," "hectic" and "three-ring circus." She confesses she heaved a "sigh of relief" when "everyone got back safe" from that spectacular trip.

Who knows, the human side of today's history may be going into the ladies' diaries.

Hold District Meeting Here October 17

The goal of the Cathedral City Junior Woman's Club is one hundred per cent attendance at the De Anza District meeting of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, Junior membership scheduled for October 17, according to president Mrs. Thomas Brindle.

The meeting will be held at the Elks Lodge on Highway 111. Coffee Hour will start at 9 a.m., followed by the executive board meeting from 9:15 until 10 a.m. The first regular business meeting of the year 1959-60 will then be called to order by president Mrs. Donald Amato. Workshops in the procedures of parliamentary law, club presidents, ways and means, programming and auditing and treasurer's reports will be the order of the morning.

Arrangements have been made for luncheon at the Palm Springs Chi Chi at 1 p.m., with a special program treat planned. Adjournment is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Reservations should be made early by calling Mrs. Brindle at FAirview 8-1273.

Club President Entertains Board

The first board meeting of the Palm Desert Woman's Club will be held at noon on October 12 at the Shadow Mountain Club, when club president Mrs. L. W. Thompson is entertaining her board and committee chairmen at a "get acquainted and plan for the year" luncheon.

All former members are urged to renew their interest. New members will be cordially welcomed. The first regular meeting of the club will be held at the Shadow Mountain Club October 15 at 12:30 noon.

Desert Clubs Observe Business Women's Week

Nearly fifty members and guests of the Desert B&PW and the Palm Springs B&PW Clubs joined in a meeting on Monday night at the Lone Palm Hotel in observance of National Business Women's Week (October 4-10, 1959).

Tiny Nancy Meadows enchanted the group by singing "Once Upon a Dream" from Walt Disney's "Sleeping Beauty" and another number. Nancy Leonard, senior at Palm Springs High School sang two delightful numbers, and Wynne and Alex Hammond sang two duets to climax the entertainment portion of the meeting. They were accompanied by Lois Lux.

Everett Ball, well known local advertising agency owner and member of the Palm Springs school board, spoke on the need of public relations in today's world. He brought out the importance of public appeal in bringing messages to the public by newspaper, radio, television and other methods. Mr. Ball also stressed the importance of voting for the school bonds next Tuesday.

Sigma Gamma Plans Year Of Activity

After a brainstorming session at the home of Lucille Fostved Tuesday evening, members of Sigma Gamma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi enthusiastically outlined their programs for the coming year. In combining the schedule set up by International Headquarters with a few new ideas, vice president Amelia Irvine has the coming year's meetings filled with fun as well as study and cultural activities.

It was decided to combine an outlined program and art with a visit to an Art gallery or museum, and instead of a program on music substitute attendance at a concert. These are just two of the changes taking place to make Beta Sigma Phi's programs more interesting and enlightening.

Other members present who participated in the discussion were Fayne Pritchett, Eleanor Lenox, Millie Herbert, Helen Goundry, and Sally Givens.

Next meeting will be October 20 at the home of Sally Givens. All members are urged to attend and find out what the chapter has in store for this year.

Navy Nurse Recruiting in Indio

LCDR Patricia George, Navy Nurse Corps Recruiting Officer, will be in town at the Navy Recruiting Station at the Chamber of Commerce, Indio, on October 19 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and hopes interested nurses will come in and discuss Nurse Corps opportunities with her.

Miss George says Navy Nurses gain experience in all phases of nursing and may further their education in any of the other specialized fields of nursing including the latest "nuclear nursing." The U.S. Navy has the only school in the specialty. Also, each year the Navy sends some nurses to civilian colleges for advanced study.

Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 39½; a graduate registered, professional nurse; single or married, but with no dependents under 18 years of age; a U.S. citizen; and able to meet physical and professional qualifications. Selected applicants who request active duty are sent to the U.S. Naval School Command, Newport, Rhode Island for indoctrination in the Navy, and agree to serve at least two years. Starting salary for a Navy nurse is $338 per month.

According to Miss George, more than 14,000 patients are treated daily in Navy Hospitals around the world, at sea — aboard hospital ships and transports, and during flight on military hospital planes. Navy Nursing today is as varied as the field of medicine itself. Every kind of nursing is practiced with modern equipment and facilities.

A Nurse Corps Officer in the Navy has a planned career designed for continuous professional growth. The nurse travels and enjoys cultures and customs of foreign lands, has an interesting social life, and participates in providing the best in nursing care for the men of the fleet and U.S. Marines.

One-fourth to ½ teaspoon of salad dressing mix added to a baked potato with butter makes it extra tasty.

Dates from Coachella Valley... the desert gold of citrus fruits... fresh tans... and even packaged cactus... accompanied the Washington press when they flew out of Palm Springs early Thursday morning... mementoes of their week on the desert... The President will have his gold putter and electric cart with the legend "Our President" as souvenirs of his stay... and a unique and beautiful portrait of himself which he's taking home to the White House (See accompanying photograph for further details)... but he spent his days on the golf course... while members of the press were free to roam through the shops that are a fascinating facet of Palm Springs...

HEINER GRIMM, descendant of the Grimm's Fairy Tale family, painted this exquisite portrait on porcelain which was presented to President Dwight Eisenhower during his desert visit. Grimm is one of a handful of artists in the world today who do this type of painting. Done on porcelain, it was fired three times, and will never fade. (Desert Sun Photo).

President Gets Portrait on Porcelain

One of the choicest gifts that went back to the White House with the President was a portrait of him done by the well-known European artist Heiner Grimm. In delicate pastel colors, the portrait is painted on porcelain in a unique process.

A native of Bavaria, Grimm has been painting since childhood and held his first showing at 15. Since then he has exhibited in the major countries of the world, and is listed in the International Directory of Arts.

It was only last May that he came to this country to join his sister Mrs. Frank Thome at Palm Desert, where they plan to open a gallery and shop that will feature his oils and porcelains, which include both portraits and charming scenes from Grimm's Fairy Tales. At present he is engaged in doing portraits of Allan Jones and Virginia Fields.

PALM SPRINGS AUDIENCES are well acquainted with Alex and Wynne Hammond, whose singing has made them popular entertainers. The pair have joined the staff of Leisure Loft in Palm Desert to direct a chorus of singers. Hammond is director of the a cappella choir at Palm Springs High School and his wife is a private voice coach. The two spend their summers at Desert Sun School at Idyllwild, directing and playing for the chorus.

Mrs. Hagerty took back with her a bright-flowered and be-ribboned Palm Springs hat... and only talked herself out of a load of toys for her grandchildren... because they are leaving Saturday for Sweden... The Hagertys' son is a Captain in the Marine Corps and has just been assigned to Okinawa duty... so his wife and two small sons are going to visit her homeland for the first time since her marriage...

Mrs. Felix Belair... wife of the New York Times correspondent... admired Marge Hagerty's hat so much... she went out and bought a hat and trimmed it herself... An inveterate shopper... she added a gold palm tree to her charm bracelet... and bought some of the sea horse and fish-shaped baskets...

Jeannette Rudellat of USA... she's also with Voice of America and is sending the picture and story of the Grimm portrait to Germany... had splurged and bought a nest of carved walnut tables from the Oriental shop... and a Tea Timer dress from the Beachcomber...

It was John Edwards of ABC who was carting home the 4-foot cactus... and he told me they will grow in Washington and fit in with transplanted desert decor. One Secret Service man who shall be nameless... made a hole in one on the 16th and pocketed a ball autographed for him by an envious President...

One thing no one took home with them... was money... They bought dates to send home as gifts... and gay flowered shirts for themselves... they bought blouses and charm bracelets for their wives... toys for the children... and Carroll Linkins of Western Union found a gold charm shaped like a telegraph blank and had it inscribed with a message for his wife... and there was a run on cowboy belts and bolos.

I don't think Larry Burd of the Chicago Tribune took anything home with him except memories of an hilarious stay here... but he left some memories behind him... He is a husky-voiced singer but he's a bard with the ballads... and everyone who heard his "Millionaires" song done to the tune of "I've Got a Pocketful of Dreams"... or the earlier classic on "Maine Chance"... won't be forgetting it soon.

As the press plane took off in the bright morning sunlight... and they looked down at beautiful Palm Springs with its dramatic mountain background... and caught the glitter of the hundreds of turquoise swimming pools below them... their heads must have been whirling from the round of entertainment that gave them a taste of Palm Springs hospitality...

The party the night before... hosted by Auntie Pearl McManus at her beautiful Tennis Club... enchanted the visitors... who found the setting unbelievably charming (you know when all the lights are on it looks like something out of a fairy tale)... the food delicious... and the entertainment enchanting.

Tex Kidwell... El Mirador's singing cowboy... has never been in better voice... and his singing of the "Wedding Song" was the greatest... Vin Riley and Francoise (nobody sings "I Love Paris" like this gal) from Howard Manor took over the piano and mike... SanChez, also from H. M. played the piano and Stan Spiegelman the violin...

It was a de luxe chuckwagon in the gardens by the pool... with huge glowing lanterns overhead... and the night was the kind June has no patent on in Palm Springs...

It was an aloha party... and wound up a week that included the really magnificent party at the Hank Ridders Santa Rosa home with a superb Santos buffet and a cocktail-buffet at Bermuda Dunes which Ray Ryan had arranged through his friend Mike Reilly of the SS... the handsome cocktail-buffet at La Quinta hosted by Warner Gilmore... the hospitable entertaining of Eddie Davidson at Ocotillo... and the big party at Thunderbird which the Ridders co-hosted with the Desert Press Club...

A surprise parting gift awaited the press as they boarded their plane... It was a weather caster... a gift from the knowing Chamber of Commerce... and the poem said... "When this forecaster says snow... and the cold winds begin to blow... then we know you will recall... the sun and fun last fall... and will to Palm Springs go"... You can see why I had to promise not to reveal the author...

One thing sure... the way they talked... they all will be back in Palm Springs as soon as they can manage it... and Gettysburg will be a letdown after Palm Springs...

It happened the day the President arrived in Palm Springs... and little Angela Austin was permitted to go to the airport to see him... With love in her heart for the President who had become a familiar figure to her from seeing him on the television screen... Angela went to the airport fairly dancing with joy... but she came home with tears rolling down her cheeks...

"What's the matter, Angela?... didn't you get to see the President?... her mother asked... "Yes," Angela replied in a tremulous voice... "But he never said anything to me"...

Florence and Harold Murphy arrived back in town this week... after their summer at Tahoe where they own the North Shore Club on Crystal Bay... Vicki Malouf is here for the week... and has son Gary here with her from Kansas City (to shake a cold Eisenhower-fashion)... She says they will be commuting for awhile... but she will be here for the Costello party and the Hat Parade Luncheon...

As of today... Thunderbird started serving breakfasts, lunches and dinner in the grill... but the diningroom won't really open until later... This year the club will be open seven days a week...

Tony Cosentino is here from Chicago and getting their house and grounds into shape before the family comes out... The Cosentinos will be entertaining 12 or 15 couples who have never visited Palm Springs before... and are coming to the west coast to attend the American Trucking Association convention that will be held at the Los Angeles Statler... October 19-23...

HOME IN PALM SPRINGS after spending the summer in Europe, are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Adamson of Pablo Drive. (Sun Photo).

Adamsons Home after Three Months Travel in Europe

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Adamson have returned to their home on Pablo Drive after three months of travel in Europe.

They left Los Angeles by jet July 4, for New York and stayed at the Idlewild Hotel overnight, flying the SAS polar route the following day and landing in Geneva. From Geneva they went to Zurich and then Vienna, Austria where they met Mrs. Adamson's brother, an actor in the Opera House at Graz, whom she had not seen for 36 years.

The Adamsons, her brother and his wife then drove to Velden am Werthersee, the Austrian Riviera, where they spent six weeks before going to Venice. Returning to Vienna, after a short stay in Venice, they visited several places of interest including the opera.

Son's Family To Pay Visit

Navy Commander Milton J. Silverman, his wife, Francis, and their son, Hap, will visit Mr. and Mrs. A. Crouse, 74-439 Paintbrush, Palm Desert, during the coming weekend. The Silvermans reside in the San Diego area.

Retired Teachers Meet Thursday

Desert Division of the California Retired Teachers' Association will meet on Thursday, October 15, at 12:30 for luncheon at the Town and Country Restaurant, 174 N. Palm Canyon Drive, Palm Springs. The cost of the luncheon will be $1.50 for their famous smorgasbord. Everyone will be asked to make a short talk about their summer activities. All retired teachers in the area, whether from California or out of state are invited to attend. Further information can be obtained by calling Miss Leona Smith at FAirview 4-2388 in Palm Springs, or Miss Julie Bayliss at Diamond 7-1396 in Indio.

Fine Returning As Manager of La Paz Hotel

Back to take over active management of the beautiful "new look" La Paz Hotel in Palm Springs is veteran hotel and restaurant man, Al Fine.

Fine announced that considerable refurbishing has taken place at the Palm Springs landmark, and an active season of top flight entertainment is expected to make the La Paz one of the spa's top spots during the upcoming season. Dinner dancing sparked by well-known combos will be featured at the hostelry which opens officially for the winter season, Oct. 9, according to Fine, who is also co-host with Jerry Gould at the Ready Room in Los Angeles.

In the United States, the average person consumes 1,500 pounds of food a year. Grocery advertisers last year invested over $148 million in daily newspaper advertising to tell consumers about their products.

Vin Riley, Francoise Return to HM

Continental Pair
Join Jack Kerns
In New Billing

Vin Riley and Francoise are back. And the Howard Manor's got 'em. The continental stylings of the couple were added last night to a bill that includes the Jack Kerns Orchestra and a capacity crowd was on hand for the event.

FRANCOISE, who specializes in French and other Continental songs, dealt out a good-sized portion of her specialty while Vin Riley backstopped her pianistically.

Although the chanteuse doesn't go mikeside in the Celebrity Lounge until 10 p.m., Riley starts earlier and alternates his keyboard stylings — which are among some of the better efforts on the desert — with the music of the Kerns Orchestra.

LAST NIGHT'S opening saw a warm "welcome home" reception for the pair with co-owner Dave Margolis taking personal charge of the affair.

Lewis and Sanchez, meanwhile, have been given a one-week vacation after which they are scheduled to resume at the Manor in a new, continuous music, policy. —G.L.

Will Van Doren Testify in Quiz?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The big question facing congressional investigators today was whether Charles Van Doren would show up to testify about the allegedly rigged "21" TV quiz show on which he collected $129,000.

The 33-year-old scholar, who now holds a $50,000 a year contract with NBS, was suspended Thursday from further appearances on the network until questions raised by a House subcommittee are resolved.

NBC announced the action shortly after Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) announced that Van Doren had not replied to an invitation issued Wednesday night to appear before his group.

Harris said early this morning he still had received no word from Van Doren.

VIN RILEY AND FRANCOISE, left, returned to the Howard Manor last night and drew a warm reception from Dave and Ann Margolis and band-leader Jack Kerns. The two musical aggregations will be joined next week by the team of Lewis and Sanchez, now on vacation. (Sun Photo).

U.S. at Worst Still Better Than Russia--Johnston

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Let the Russians see all the American movies they want — even 'The Grapes of Wrath' and 'Tobacco Road' — it's good propaganda for our own country," says Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Johnston claims depicting the United States at its worst still shows how much better off we are than Iron Curtain countries.

"HERE'S AN EXAMPLE," he said. "'Grapes of Wrath' was shown in Yugoslavia right after the war to illustrate the horrible plight of American workers. It was intended to be purely anti-American propaganda."

"But when Tito's people saw the migrant crop workers, poor as they were, driving around in their own jalopies, they realized not even the rich in their own country had automobiles of their own."

"The same thing happened in Russia when they exhibited a pre-war newsreel showing Chicago cops clubbing strikers in a packing plant fight. After a striker was knocked down the audience could see he was wearing brand new shoes. They were used to being slugged by cops, but the Russians couldn't afford new shoes."

EARL WILSON: It's a Struggle In Beverly Hills

BEVERLY HILLS — Out here where the baseballs grow a little larger and the bats a little longer, the children lead strange lives — especially in the neighborhoods inhabited by the movie tycoons.

Monte Proser, a humble restaurateur, wanted his five sons to know how to work. He got three of them jobs as newsboys. It seemed to their father that they were delivering their papers faster than he did as a boy. So he lectured them. "You're not to show the papers in any garbage cans!" he warned. "They are to be delivered to each house, and thrown carefully on the porch."

"Oh, certainly, Daddy," they said. One day when Daddy happened to be home at delivery time, he discovered the secret of their efficiency.

With the help of Donna Reed's son and a neighborhood millionaire, who also had a boy, they were delivering the papers by chauffeured limousine — with the chauffeur running the papers up to the porches.

The Loretta Young divorce talk is not to be believed. . . . Sexpot Joan Bradshaw's going to star in a film in Acapulco titled "Angel of Acapulco." Naturally it's going to be made by a British producer . . . Milton Berle, 19 pounds thinner, is getting along fine with his wife Ruth and with his brothers, but his brothers aren't talking.

Everywhere I went here, people said, "I saw you on TV on 'What Makes Sammy Run' — a very good show, too — but why did we only get a rear view of you?" Some of them were even for running Director Delbert Mann out of business. But I told them that he knew what he was doing. He was showing my good side.

Steve Allen of course was kidding, but when Groucho Marx asked what he thought of the baseball games, he said, "Who's playing?" . . . George Gobel, who starts the TV season on CBS Sunday with Anita Bryant as his singer and Henry Fonda as a guest, tells me he feels much more relaxed about this season. "Last year I used to get exhausted," he said, "just from lifting the script" . . . Henry Slate introduced singer Carol Brent at the Slate saloon by saying, "She comes to us straight from one of Gary Crosby's all-night parties" . . . Beautiful Dee Hartford, who's divorcing Howard Hawks, is returning to New York to resume modeling and acting.

Danny Kaye's friends are now forecasting he'll never, never do TV. . . . One of the most famous baseball players didn't go back to the series here the second day — He didn't like the seats they gave him the first day. . . . Joe Eckhouse, the merchandiser, broke his ankle in a fall here, and cancelled a trip to Honolulu to go to Palm Springs and recuperate. . . . Jerry Lewis claimed he found out the perfect way to lick the World Series traffic mob: Arrive the second inning and leave the third inning.

STUDENT 'SALOME' SHEDS ALL 7 VEILS; SCHOOL BERSERK

MIAMI (UPI) — Sexy photos of student Melanie Miller as a Salome peeled down to her seventh veil and an unregistered "cove" wearing only her socks and step-ins were easily the most studied homework on the University of Miami campus today.

University President Jay W. F. Pearson put the staff of student magazine Tempo on the carpet for their sequence of Salome shedding her veils.

August FHA Figures Show Drop

Lowest Month
In 1959 Recorded;
Year Ahead Though

LOS ANGELES — FHA mortgage insurance applications declined in August to the lowest rate for any month in 1959, Director Norman M. Lyon of the Los Angeles office was advised by Commissioner Julian H. Zimmerman today. The total volume for the year, the commissioner added, is still well above that for the first eight months of last year.

August applications on 63,300 units in one- to four-family homes were 15 per cent below the July volume, and applications on multifamily projects dropped 28 per cent to 2,400 units.

FOR NEW HOMES, applications were down 12 per cent to 25,600 units. Existing-home applications decreased 18 per cent to 37,700 units.

Construction was started in August, the commissioner said, on 29,200 FHA-inspected home units. This was 1 per cent less than in July. Allowing for seasonal factors, however, it represented an annual rate of 314,000 units, which was 5 per cent above the rate reported for July. August starts also included 2,132 project units.

HERE ARE COMPARATIVE figures from the preliminary summary of FHA operations for August, including both home and project units:

Applications for proposed construction (units): August, 27,800; July, 32,271; August 1958, 43,667; first eight months of 1959, 334,392; first eight months of 1958, 301,135.

Applications for existing construction (units): August, 37,899; July, 45,758; August 1958, 56,621; first eight months of 1959, 365,827; first eight months of 1958, 371,890.

Units started under FHA inspection: August, 31,350; July, 31,427; August 1958, 30,493; first eight months of 1959, 235,086; first eight months of 1958, 178,007.

Antiques to Play Important Role In Home Show

LOS ANGELES — Antiques, recognized and endorsed by leading decorators for use in the design and decor of the contemporary home, will play an important role in the tenth annual Decorators Show at the Pan Pacific Auditorium, Oct. 16-25.

Back by popular demand will be the Antique Pavilion, which made its debut as an added attraction in last year's show. The Antique Pavilion will feature works from today's foremost collectors of old world art, according to show producer Robert L. Boyle.

The Antique Pavilion will be fashioned after such famous old world marts as the Paris Flea Market and the London Caledonia Market. Collections ranging from exquisite jewelry of the Gay 90's to rare masonry and sculpture dating back to Biblical times will be shown.

Also featured will be a special area devoted to antique room settings displaying home furnishings from all eras, designed and coordinated by experts in the trade.

The show will have its charity premiere at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 15. Proceeds of the first night's showing will go to the Crippled Children's Guild of the Los Angeles Orthopaedic Hospital.

GARDENING

Amateur Gardeners Given Advice on Roses

Comfortably ensconced in a brand new home and probably surrounded by virgin sand that holds little or none of the plant life necessary for the growing of any decorative growths, the Amateur Gardener, probably with much prodding by his better half, has already tackled the planting of lawn, cleared the sand of builder's debris, worked peat moss and steer manure — not the kind that draws flies — leveled the soil and planted seed that, he hopes will give verdant green to the front of his new home.

In most instances roses come next; we would advise him to leave the choice of colors to the feminine gender, blending of colors comes natural to them, leaving to him the choice of the sturdiest plants, and the backbreaking ground work.

HOWEVER, we would advise both of them to leave room; after the nursery rose bushes are planted, for some of the bare-root rose bushes that are generally on sale in January and early February.

We have had excellent results with bare-root roses and — incidentally — saved some money.

To prepare rose beds dig a basin about two feet deep and three feet wide to allow a bottom cover of peat moss, leaf mold and the new organic humus that is now on the market. A mixture of this kind will greatly eliminate the comparatively fast leaching of water, and plant food, through ordinary desert soil.

THE WIDTH mentioned will provide ample place for the growing roots to spread and not be forced upwards as is often the case. All this preparation should take at least a month, after which the plant should be taken out of the can in which it was bought — your nurseryman will gladly cut the sides of the can so that the soil around the roots would not be disturbed — and prepared soil should be at hand to build up the lower part of the bed so that the bud union is three inches below the top of the basin.

When filling the basin with prepared soil be sure to tamp it down occasionally, thereby eliminating all air pockets. With new planting the basin should be filled to the top and, when this water has disappeared, the basin should be filled again.

ROSES ARE very fond of water so unless you are near the mountains where the soil is heavy and contains little sand, you will find twice a day watering is not too much when the temperature exceeds the hundred mark. These should be early morning and late evening. Ninety to a hundred every day, and below 85 every second day. The covering of the top strata with peat moss to the depth of a full inch will allow less watering as there will naturally be a little less evaporation.

There are many excellent rose foods on the market; these should be used once a month while the roses are blooming and, when the dormant season comes around, eliminated. We have talked to some growers who, because of the lack of humidity, prefer a little overhead, early morning sprinkling; others feel there is plenty

New York Men Buy Chaparral Lodge in City

A pair of New Yorkers have purchased the 24-unit Chaparral Lodge here, it was announced today by Realtor Bill Colven.

Frank Adams, a lawyer, and Robert Draper, an advertising executive, purchased the hotel this week in an investment estimated to eventually reach $300,000.

COLVEN, A REALTOR here for nearly a decade and who this week opened new offices at 401 North Palm Canyon Drive, represented the two New Yorkers as well as the builder in the sale of the property.

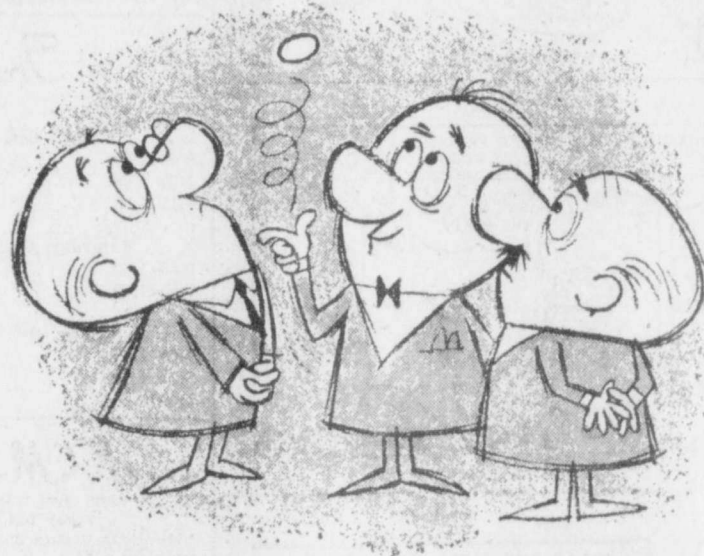

Adams was formerly associated with U.S. Industries of New York and Draper was an executive in the sales and advertising division of the Lassiter Corporation of New York.

ASSOCIATED WITH Colven in the transaction were Ray Shelby and Lisa H. Jones.

The Chaparral Lodge is located at 1533 Chaparral Road.

of humidity these days. We are inclined to agree with the latter.

We have found that a light spraying of powdered iron sulphate helps the leaves to stay green if spread over the top of the basin soil; iron sulphate helps the leaves and the blooms are wide open and ready to fall cut them off for the benefit of the rest. Roses for house use should be cut when they are ready to open — by using this principle you will derive much indoor pleasure. —T.G.M.

Trees Give Man Breath of Life

One of the most pressing problems of modern civilization concerns the increase in air pollution. Scientists say the best weapon in the fight to rid ourselves of the menace is plant cover which absorbs deadly carbon monoxide from the atmosphere while returning life-giving oxygen.

To keep the atmosphere clean, savants suggest that 10 trees be planted for every automobile. Forests of evergreens, like Douglas fir and other species of fir and cedar, are needed to combat the problem both winter and summer.

Sherry is Series Standout For Cinderella Dodgers

L.A. Wins Crown in 6th Game

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

CHICAGO (UPI) — It was baseball's glory road for the Los Angeles Dodgers today, and heart-break highway for the Chicago White Sox.

The Dodgers were the new champions of the baseball world, another Cinderella team.

Los Angeles closed it out in style Thursday, crushing the White Sox 9-3 back in their own park to bring the Far West its first championship in a series noted for new records — in money, attendance, hitting and pitching.

IT WILL LONG BE remembered as one of the most unusual series of all time.

It drew a record total attendance of 420,784 — thanks to three record breaking crowds in Los Angeles; a record total of $2,626,973.44, any number of hitting marks and a series in which no pitcher went the distance.

But there was one pitcher who did the trick.

He was 24-year-old Larry Sherry, who began the season in the minors — at St. Paul — and came up to the Dodgers to become their biggest weapon. He won two games, including the biggest one Thursday, and saved two others. In another game, he was used as a pinch-hitter.

"You'd have to say he did the job for us," commented Dodger Manager Walter Alston in baseball's understatement of the year.

He sure did.

WHEN DODGER starter, southpaw Johnny Podres faltered Thursday behind an 8-0 lead, Sherry, the cocky kid making good for his home town of Los Angeles, came in to save the day.

He turned back the White Sox on four hits in five and two-thirds innings of another brilliant relief effort, climaxing one of the best clutch hurling efforts in series history. He won the fourth game, and saved two others.

So his record was eight hits yielded and one run allowed in 12 2/3 innings of pitching. He was the difference.

But Alston in paying tribute to his Dodgers — and he was confident all the way that they would hit the jackpot — singled out others besides Sherry.

THEY INCLUDED Duke Snider, with his ailing knee; Gil Hodges, with his big bat; Carl Furillo and Chuck Essegian when their pinch hitting; catcher Johnny Roseboro with his throwing which kept the go-go Sox from going very far — and a number of others.

When they left Brooklyn for California's baseball gold dust in 1958, the Dodgers wound up a dismal seventh.

They atoned for it in 1959 — and did it the hard way. They tied Milwaukee for the National League pennant, won it in a play-off series, and then downed the White Sox, four games to two, in the series. There had been a lot of rags-to-riches epics in baseball, but none ever rivaled this.

CHARLEY DRESSEN, left, Los Angeles Dodger coach, talked too much yesterday and was told to take a shower by the umpire, "and don't use all the hit water" but Manager Walter Alston, right, stayed right in there and saw his Dodgers win, 9-3, in "a great team effort in every sense of the word." Alston, after having brought his team up from seventh place last year to a world championship this year, looks like a fixture—for a while at least.

ALSTON COMES OUT OF THE DOG HOUSE

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dodger manager Walt Alston who used to enter the fans' "dog house" every time he walked on the field, was everybody's hero today in the Dodgers' new hometown.

And as far as former Dodger catching great Roy Campanella is concerned, the studious skipper of the world champion Dodgers has every right to the honor.

Campanella and Dodger general manager E. J. (Buzze) Bavasi were among millions of persons in Southern California who watched or listened as the Dodgers won the final game of the World Series Thursday from the White Sox, 9-3.

"THIS TEAM deserves as much — or more — credit than any of the great Dodger clubs of the past," said Roy happily. "Walt Alston was expected to win with those clubs," said Campanella, who played on the world championship team of 1955. "But this was different. He did a wonderful job."

It was generally understood that Alston was on the hot seat after last year's seventh place finish. Los Angeles was receptive to major league baseball, but the poor Dodger showing had club officials concerned. A Los Angeles newspaper (the Examiner) said it learned Alston had saved his job only by winning the pennant.

IRONICALLY, while Alston almost certainly will be chosen manager of the year, he still has no contract for next season.

Bavasi, as jubilant as anyone over the Dodger triumph, would give no definite word on what contract plans are being made. "We'll get to it someday," said Buzze, indicating an informal course was to be expected.

Alston, who brings his team home today for an expected warm welcome at International Airport, was the target for second-guessing fans as the club failed to impress anyone in its Los Angeles debut here. As recently as last month, during the thick of the pennant fight, Alston drew the wrath of fans for key moves with his pitching staff in a then "crucial" doubleheader loss to Chicago.

Fleck Leads At Hesperia On First Day

Credits Practice For Success in High Desert Event

HESPERIA (UPI)—Jack Fleck, the Cinderella golfer who picked up the 1955 U.S. Open title from Ben Hogan in a playoff, led the field by one stroke today into the second round of the 72-hole Hesperia Open with a 66.

Fleck, 37, who hasn't won anything to speak of since his 1955 victory in San Francisco, birdied seven holes on this high desert oasis course Thursday. The Tarzana, Calif., pro had 33-33-66.

He took a one-stroke lead over late-finisher Joe Kirkwood Jr., the Joe Palooka of television, who had a 33-34-67, and Frank Wharton, Dallas, who celebrated his 24th birthday with a 67.

GROUPED AT 68 were Bob Duden, Oswego, Ore.; Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla.; Charles Siford, Los Angeles; Bob Goalby, Crystal River, Fla., and Joe Greer, Yakima, Wash.

Fleck said that he had been taking putting lessons during the past few weeks from Chuck Congdon, winner of the Canadian Open last year.

"The whole thing about golf is putting," Fleck said.

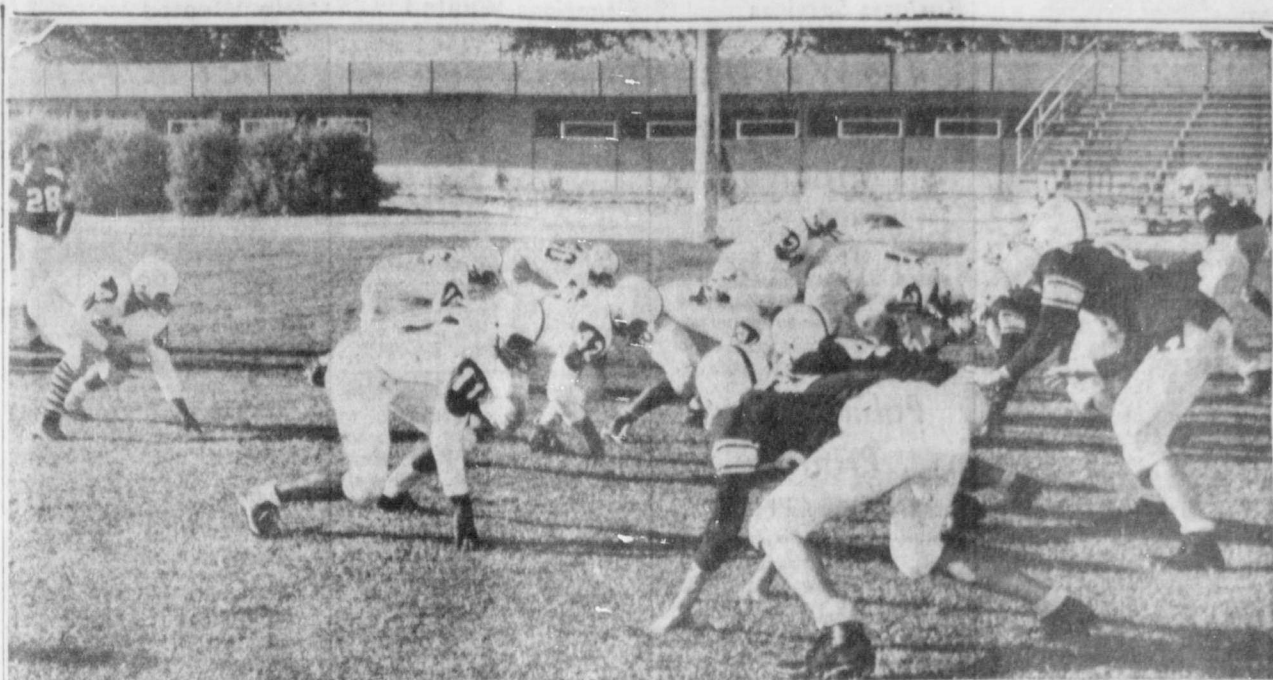

HE BOGIED the 16th hole Thursday and the only hole he two-putted was the ace hole.

The top amateur in the first round was Franklin Motte, Neuvo, who fashioned a three-under-par 69.

The oddest stunt of the tournament was staged by Retief Waltman, Johannesburg, South Africa, who hooked his second shot on the ninth hole into the parking lot. Parking lot attendants moved two cars and Waltman used an 11-iron to chip the hole. His ball landed within 18 inches of the cup and he holed out for a par 4 and finished with a 72.

COACH CLARE BALLAGH puts his depleted Palm Springs High School Indian squad through its paces as he prepares for the third practice game of the season tonight against San Jacinto high. Injuries have crippled the Tribe this year but Ballagh is still hopeful of fielding a representative team when the new Desert-Valley League season starts in two weeks. (Desert Sun Photo).

Strong San Jacinto Team Meets Indians Here Tonight

Final Home Practice Tilt On Schedule

Coach Clare Ballagh sends his crippled Palm Springs High School squad against San Jacinto tonight on the local field at 8 o'clock in the third practice game for the season for the Indians.

It will be the last home game for the Tribe for three weeks, also their third home stand in the same number of weeks.

Next week they go to Hemet for the final practice game and then on October 23 open the new Desert-Valley League season against Indio High there.

STARTING WITH a small squad numbering only 29 boys, Ballagh has since then lost several key players, veterans of last year's squad.

First, Weston Naef, veteran center, and J. C. Walton were lost for the season. Later Tony Gomez was hurt but will probably be in action tonight.

Bill Smith and Jim Larland were sidelined by injury this week.

BALLAGH WILL probably start Jeff Rollins and Gus Walton at ends, Harry Karuzich and Dick Jones at tackles, J. D. Walton and Lloyd Gault at guards, Ed Erie at center, and Tony Gomez, James Hill, Jim Rougley and Fred Cockinham in the back spots.

Other Desert-Valley League teams tonight to see action are Banning at Hemet, Coachella at Beaumont, Yucaipa at Elsinore, Indio at Beaumont and Twenty-nine Palms still idle. They have not played yet this year.

Braves Dicker For McDougald And Boudreau

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Milwaukee Braves are dicker for infielder Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees and also are considering Lou Boudreau as successor to retired manager Fred Haney, United Press International learned today.

Negotiations with the Yankees centered around an offer of pitcher Bob Buhl plus cash or other players for McDougald, the versatile infielder who experienced a superb season during 1959.

The Braves were understood to be after McDougald to play second base, which was a problem for Milwaukee throughout the 1958 season with 1957-58 regular Red Schoendienst sidelined by tuberculosis. Apparently the Braves wish to protect themselves at second in the event 36-year-old Schoendienst will not be able to make a full comeback next year.

Wade to Call 'Em For L.A. Sunday

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams were scheduled to leave by plane today for Chicago for Sunday's meeting with the Bears.

Lilly Wade will be calling the signals in what Coach Sid Gillman hopes will be Wade's first full game of the season. Wade was injured in the fourth quarter of the team's loss to the New York Giants and was unable to play at all against the San Francisco Forty Niners to whom the Rams lost last weekend.

NEW BOATING THRILLS—Skin diving is opening a new world of thrills and excitement to boating fans. This diver, just up from a trip to the bottom, uses the basic equipment of swim fins and a face mask for his fun. Skin diving is not expensive. This basic apparatus can be purchased for about $12 and gives 10 times that in subsurface adventure.

EVERYBODY'S BOATING

Skin Diving Adds New Thrill to Boating Fun

Skin diving is adding new sparkle to the already exciting sport of boating. Many boating families are finding that a few dollars spent for basic equipment can make for subsurface fun that is hard to beat.

The gear for underwater fun need not be expensive. A pair of fins, face mask and a snorkel tube are all that are really needed. For deep dives and long stays underwater an air lung is required. The lung or "SCUBA" (self contained underwater breathing apparatus) can be purchased for under $200.

You don't need to be a crack swimmer to enjoy skin diving. Experts say that the use of a mask and snorkel is one of the best ways to acquire the relaxation that helps make anyone a better swimmer.

A beginner will usually come up choking and spluttering in about 15 seconds. Practice will see this same diver staying down a minute or longer to spear a fish or explore some underwater attraction.

The Aqua Lung (SCUBA) adds an entire new world to the sport. Lung divers can go down several hundred feet and can explore the depths for an hour or more. Most

Two Ball Games For Local Fans At Polo Grounds

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Semi-Pro baseball team, representing Palm Springs, will put its six-game winning streak on the line this weekend with a pair of games, meeting the Banning All-Stars Saturday night and the Twentynine Palms Merchants in a return game Sunday afternoon.

Both games will be at the Polo Grounds, the Saturday night at 7:30 and Sunday's game at 1:30.

JERRY DELMONT, ace right-hander for the local club, will be Manager Johnny Marinko's choice to oppose Banning Saturday night. Sunday afternoon Twentynine Palms Merchants, who absorbed a 14-1 clobbering from the CVSL recently, will try to even up matters.

Marinko was uncertain whether George Hertske or Ed Ballard would take the mound for CVSL.

WINTER LEAGUE plans were in the hopper today with Palm Springs slated to meet Riverside, Hemet, Banning, Indio, March Air Force Base and other teams eager to get into the act.

Roy W. Shaw, business manager for the local club, is in negotiations steadily to bring the Village first class baseball this winter.

Ski Club Plans Salton Weekend

SALTON CITY — More than 400 water skiers will gather this weekend at Salton City to celebrate the ninth anniversary of Los Angeles Boat and Ski Club, largest boating club in the Southland.

Youngsters and veteran skiers will participate in a Salton City treasure hunt for cash prizes donated by the Salton City Chamber of Commerce.

During the weekend's activity there will be ski races up to 10 miles in length for all classes; a fishing derby for youngsters up to 15 years of age; a beach barbecue and a giant Sunday afternoon barbecue.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-year-old daughter who is so boy crazy she worries me sick. All she thinks about is boys. She's got boys' names written all over her books. And every piece of paper by the telephone is marked up with initials and boys' names.

When the doorbell rings she runs like lightning to talk to any delivery boy it happens to be.

What really bothers me is she lies. I don't allow her to go in cars with boys so she walks to a girl's house and the boys meet her with a car there. I found this out by reading her diary. I asked her for the truth and she lied to cover up her lies. How can I get the truth out of her MRS. G.

DEAR MRS. G.: The only reason children lie is because they haven't the courage to tell the truth. Give your daughter that courage by assuring her that no matter what she has done you will understand and forgive her. Perhaps your threats are too frightening and your punishments too severe. Give your child plenty of love and expect the best, and you'll rarely be disappointed.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has made it plain that he prefers the television set to me. Several of my women friends have the same complaint. What could be the reason for this?—IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Maybe it's because he can turn off the television when he wants to.

DEAR ABBY: I am beginning to plan my wedding. Mother and I disagree on the list of wedding

Georgia Day Services Set

Funeral services for Mrs. Georgia Day, 80, 680 East Amado Road, will be conducted at 10 a.m., Saturday, at Greenwood Memorial Park and Mortuary, San Diego.

Mrs. Day, who had lived here since 1927, died at 11 a.m., Tuesday, at Riverside County Hospital, following a long illness. She had been active in the nursing profession here.

...by Abigail VanBuren

guests.
Mother says I must ask all my aunts, uncles and cousins. This includes all my PARENTS' aunts, uncles and cousins, too. And all their children! I could stumble over most of my parents' aunts, uncles and cousins and not even know them. Why must I ask them to my wedding?

It is a small church and I have to consider the groom's family. If they were to invite as many from their side as we invited from our side, we couldn't all get in the church. This whole thing is making me very nervous. Please send me some advice before I elope and settle the matter.—NERVOUS BRIDE

DEAR NERVOUS: Use a little psychology and suggest that your mother use a little arithmetic! How many people will the church accommodate? The groom's side is entitled to half those seats. Naturally, the "immediate" relatives are on the top of the list. The more remote the relative, the farther down the list. Lop off the list at the bottom. Now, wasn't that simple?

CONFIDENTIAL TO GITTLE: Don't be so impressed by his fat wallet. Most of it could be credit cards.

To get ABBY'S pamphlet, "What Every Teenager Wants To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

In 1958, the sporting goods industry did approximately $1.8 billion business. To keep sales up, the industry invested $4.705 million in daily newspapers, 8.6 per cent more than was invested during the previous year.

"Naval stores," the trade term for turpentine and rosin, were given that name back in the days when pitch was used in the seams of wooden sailing vessels.

CHOCOLATE SODA AND A PAN OF WATER, PLEASE.

PRESENTING AMERICA'S MOST CAREFULLY BUILT CAR.

THE IMPERIAL OF 1960

Tomorrow, at showrooms across America, we introduce the totally new... totally wonderful Imperial.

It is built more carefully, tested more thoroughly, than any other car which has been or will be introduced this year. It requires more individual handcrafting than other cars. It takes longer to build... because the skills which build it are the kind that can't be hurried. It has brought automotive craftsmanship back to America.

The new instrument panel has bold, readable calibrations... logically placed controls... and a remarkable new Panelescent lighting which aids vision and depth perception at night by eliminating glare and reflection.

New swivel seats turn automatically as the door is opened. An exclusive, improved Auto-Pilot tends the accelerator on long trips (two very practical options)... the engine has more wheel-turning power than any other passenger car engine in the world.

When you drive our Imperial of 1960, we think you will agree it proves one satisfying point... that a fine car can be almost awesomely impressive, and still be a vivid, engaging personality... a good companion as well as an obedient servant.

Compare Imperial's riding quality, space and comfort... ease of entry and exit, front and rear... driving liveliness... and learn that it is, in luxurious fact, the finest car America has yet produced.

"The Haunting Splendor of Antiquity"

It's just amazing the things you can buy if you have the inclination and the money, or even a credit card.

Here are a few things being offered in one issue of one magazine. For the gourmet there are such things as canned bees and grasshoppers. For those who hate to grow old there are clocks that run backwards, miniature model skeletons for people with small closets. (We have big closets and plenty of them in our homes). Genuing Revolutionary war cannons. (These make terrific paper weights but are a little cumbersome), or an authentic angel cross bib. The advertisement assures us that this bib "combines highest sophistication with the haunting splendor of antiquity."

We must admit that we are a little bit in the dark when it comes to this particular type of bib. Maybe with bibs "the haunting splendor of antiquity" is good but when it comes to Palm Springs' homes, "antiquity" would seem to have its drawbacks. Today people, generally, want their homes to be modern in every respect. Such things as refrigerated air - conditioning, built-in stoves and ovens, electric dishwashers, combination washer-dryers, heated and filtered swimming pools, wall-to-wall carpet, large fenced lots and—(oh gosh, by now you've guessed that we are right into our commercial message so we might as well stop trying to be subtle.)

Our homes have no "haunting splendor of antiquity." We leave that to the majestic splendor of the desert and mountains that form the background setting for these true estates.

What they do have are the right things that most people seem to want. To prove it to yourself we suggest that you pay a visit to each of our model homes listed below. If you like what you see, ask about the many homes nearing completion for immediate occupancy.
